Sheep Dogs Get an Ovation for Their Act Many Crack Competitors in the Dog Show-Two Harness Baces Give Varicty to the Program-Day's Winners.

New City, Rockland county, New York, opened a three days fair yesterday under the auspices of the Rockland County Industrial Association. It was the twenty-sixth annual affair of its kind, and undoubtedly this year's attempt must be written as distinct success. The weather was grand saw. l'eople came in every conceivable conveyance, train, auto, gig, carryall, coupé, buckboard, and any old thing fit to ride on

Besides a trotting race and dog show, which were the main features, there were exhibits of live stock, ducks, geese, hens, turkeys and every food stuff and vegetable that ever grew on a farm. Hard by on the crest of a hillock the Twenty-third Regiment of Brooklyn was encamped, and with its music, drills and sham battles gave variety

The trotting race brought out a field of twelve entries. The local followers of the ulky struck a snag in Ogden Smith, a black horse by Island Wilkes and owned by H. Williams of New York city. The animal, without the semblance of a break, won three straight heats. His best time was 2:26%, but on a good track any day he can clip a big margin off these figures. Each time his driver had lots to spare.

A novel and interesting feature of the fair was the sheep dog trials, which con-sisted of an exhibition of hauling and driving sheep as might be seen on the Scotch hills or on the Western prairies. For the purpose of carrying out the act two crack sheep dogs, two shepherds and half a dozen hardy hoggets were brought from the farm of Major Gouverneur M. Carnochan, in the neighbor. hood. The dogs, one gray and one red, were dead ringers for Bob Son of Battle and Red Wull, and they acted in keeping with their mythical prototypes. The red one was named Cairnsmuir Jack, and the cognomen of the gray dog of the hills was Cairnsmuir Laddie.

Three sheep were allotted to each dog. and Red Wull was first out, being set at the job of hauling. This consisted of bringing the sheep a distance of about 300 yards from a shed and penning them in front of the grand stand. After that he was to drive them around the track over two artificial bridges and through three brush hurdles and pen them again. Red Wull did well for a while after the sheep left the shed, but they balked at the crowd. The dog faltered and could not work them on to the track. However, seeing that he was unable to steer his charges to the destination, the dog turned them and drove them through the bridges and hurdles, landing them in the pen in six minutes. Then came the gray dog for a stirring exhibition. When the sheep left the shed he got them on the run, and with a series of encircling movements and all the time barking. and with his eyes sparkling, he drove them straight across the grounds and on to the track. A pin could have been heard drop as the dog worked the sheep to the pen. At a signal from the shepherd he brought them out for the "drive." With the same rare instinct the gray dog sent the huggets trotting before him back across the ground, around the track, through the bridges and hurdles, keeping up the same barking and buck jumping antice. Straight as the barrel of a rifle he piloted the sheep to the pen, and a rousing cheer which woke the echoes of the surround-ing hills broke out. His time was 3 minutes

The dog show proper was the most successful department of the fair, with 140 classes, which included hounds, beagles, setters, pointers, terriers, buildogs, collies, sheep dogs, spaniels, St. Bernards, poodles and doss, spaniels, St. Bernards, poodles and pomeranians. A representative ust of show doss tried for the prizes, and there were champions from far and near. American Kennel Clubrules prevailed and James Mortimer superintended the work of the ring judginer puring the judicial disposal of the rough coated coilles the ringside was jammed. Prominent among the competitors was Laurei Ladde, owned by Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Edson. The dog was a year old last February and is by Cragston Bob out of Cragston Belle, and 25 may be class for winners. From out of the West came a real topnotcher in the pointer Champion Oregon's Jessie II. The bitch in the open class and in the open class for winners had things her own way. BROKERAGE DEALING REMAINS SEASONABLY QUIET.

The Borough Realty Company Buys a Key Plot in Twenty-sixth Street Near Lexington Avenue-Flate and Tenements Prependerate in the Trading.

Dealing in flats and tenements continued yesterday to be the only activity of any consequence in the brokerage branch of the market. It was widely distributed, although a majority of the transactions affected the East Side north of Eightyfifth street. No auction sales were held in the Real Estate Exchange at 14 Vesey street. Plans were filed with the Building Department for $709,000 worth of new constructions in Manhattan. Of this sum all but $75,000 represents flats and tene-

Nen-Step Auto Run.

Non-Step Auto Rum.

Long Brance, N. J., Aug. 23.—Interest increases in the six day non-stop auto run between Scabright and Sca Girt. All three machines, the Frayer Miller, Corbin and Wayne, are now running, the last named oar having completed its 1,000 miles at 7:27 o 'clock to-night. At 7 o 'clock to-night the Frayer Miller car had covered 1,440 miles and at 9 to-night had totaled nearly 1,600 miles, being at least two hundred miles ahead of the record made last year. The Corbin car at 7:27 o 'clock had covered 1,320 miles, having run forty-eight hours since its mishap without stopping.

The Frayer Miller car picked up a stone near Sca Girt this morning after having made its 1889th mile. After a delay of ten minutes it started again. At 1:27 P. M. it stopped at Long Branch for a thorough overhauling and did not start again until 2:40. All the cars have stopped their engines. The tire contest cars, the Maxwells, four in number, have made 600 miles. They are not try-ing for speed records.
